

Eric D. Baker

Eric Baker is the President & CEO of Wolverine Power Supply Cooperative, Inc. in Cadillac, Michigan. Mr. Baker's background includes power generation development, power contract negotiations, financial modeling, rates, regulatory affairs, long-range transmission planning, and engineering.

Mr. Baker is an honors graduate of Michigan Technological University, and holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Electrical Engineering. He also received an MBA (finance concentration) from Western Michigan University in 2007. He is a registered Professional Engineer in the State of Michigan and an IEEE member. He has worked for Wolverine Power Cooperative for over 30 years holding various positions in management, engineering, rates, and planning.

Mr. Baker is a lifelong Michigan resident and he resides in Cadillac with his wife and three children. He serves on the Boards for Cadillac Area Public Schools and the Cadillac Community Foundation. His interests include endurance sports, mountaineering, history, and poetry.