

Barbara Kiss

Ms. Kiss is currently the Director for Emissions Certification and Compliance at General Motors. In this position, Ms. Kiss leads a team of regulatory, compliance, fuels, warranty, testing and certification engineers to ensure emissions compliance for GM North America. She chairs the cross functional internal compliance review board as well as works closely with the Legal Staff and Public Policy to mitigate compliance risks and embrace streamlining opportunities. Ms. Kiss has extensive interaction with government agencies such as California Air Resources Board and the Environmental Protection Agency.

Previously, Ms. Kiss was the Director in Environment, Energy, and Safety Policy focused on energy and regulatory issues. Ms. Kiss has been with GM since 1999. Prior to joining GM, Ms. Kiss was a Staff Engineer at the American Automobile Manufacturers Association and also worked for the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency.

Ms. Kiss has a BS in Chemical Engineering from Wayne State University and has completed the Harvard School of Business Emerging Leaders MBA program.