

MIKE ALAIMO

Director of Environmental and Energy Affairs, Michigan Chamber of Commerce

As director of environmental and energy affairs, Mike leads all lobbying responsibilities regarding energy, environment, sustainability, along with infrastructure and transportation, issues. He also runs the Michigan Chamber's Energy and Environment Policy Committee, along with several sub-committee groups including the Utility and Manufacturing Roundtables as well as task forces focused on mobility, sustainability and emerging technologies.

Prior to joining the Michigan Chamber, Mike worked in trade association advocacy, successfully growing a small clean energy trade group as their first executive director. In that time, he honed a strong skill set in the energy, environment and emerging technology spaces. Additionally, he spent 10 years working in various staff roles for lawmakers serving in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Mike holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from Michigan State University, and he and his wife, Rhylie, are the proud parents of two busy toddlers.
